Ex-Empress Eugenie is not bankrupted it seems, as the announcement is made that she is building a church at Flamborough, England, in memory of her son, which will cost $340,000.

Mr. Walter Brown, of Kansas City, has bought 43,000 acres of land in Kansas, at $1 per acre. It lies in the counties of Clark and Comanche, and will be used exclusively for grazing purposes.

Ex-Governor St. John, of Kansas, will make the coming campaign profitable to himself in point of dollars and cents. We do not question his motives, but simply state the facts as an item of news. He is paid $50 for every speech he delivers on prohibition. He is now working in Minnesota, and in a short time will go to Ohio, where he is booked for a dozen or more speeches and will then do what his services will be of special value.

The greatest reform the democrats can think of just at present, is that of omitting the word "only" from their tariff platform. The word has given them much trouble, and next time they write a national platform they will say, "a tariff for revenue." That little word "only" has tripped up the democratic party many times, and they propose to throw it away. The Cincinnati Commercial kindly mentions for the benefit of the democrats, that it might be well for them to leave off the word "revenue," and have it read, "a tariff for—," and then permit every democrat to fill out the blank to suit himself. But the Chicago Journal suggests that it would probably be better to adopt two words, "a tariff." This would be simple, and every democrat could agree to it for what he thought it was worth.

The New York Times has taken the pains to gather from all parts of the country, opinions on the presidential question. Taking reports from all political centers, it foots up the chances of the candidates of both parties as follows:

BUYELIAN. Democratic. Blaine. 100 Tilden. 120 Arthur. 64 McDonald. 72½ Edmunds. 57½ Bayard. 51½ Grant. 17½ Ber. 17½ Hayes. 17½ Logan. 17 Thurman. 17½ Lincoln. 12½ Cleveland. 11 Harrison. 12 Johnson. 5 G. S. Stearns. 4 Hoadly. 4 Gresham. 4 Morrison. 3 G. C. Cornell. 2 Eaton. 2 G. W. Peck. 2 Allis. 2 Hewitt. 1 Judge Miller. 1 Hendricks. 1 Sheridan. 1 Stewart. 1 Folger. 1 Pendleton. 1 V. W. Wilson. 1 English. 1 No expression. 20

According to this, Blaine seems to lead on the republican side, which will probably be doubted by a great many who are impressed with the fact that President Arthur will be his own successor. There is no doubt the sentiment in regard to Mr. Tilden is correctly given. He has squarely placed himself in the field, and will fight it with all the might his bairn contains. Yet, time may create circumstances that will change the sentiment given by the Times. Congress may possibly do much to scatter the predictions here given.

The Wisconsin editorial association now in session at Lake Geneva, elected officers yesterday as follows:

President—E. D. Coo, of the Whitewater Register.

Vice Presidents—

First congressional district—Nicholas Smith of the Janesville Gazette.

Second—I. T. Carr, of the Jefferson Baumer.

Third—C. A. Booth, of the Monroe Sentinel.

Fourth—George W. Peck, of Peck's Sun.

Fifth—H. N. Boss, of the Sheboygan Times.

Sixth—T. B. Reid, of the Appleton Post.

Seventh—W. C. Wilson, of the Virgoena Leader.

Eighth—J. H. Keyes, of the Eau Claire Free Press.

Ninth—L. B. Noyes, of the Marquette Herald.

Secretary—J. E. Heg, of the Lake Geneva Herald.

Treasurer—David Atwood, of the State Journal.

At the Wednesday morning session of the association the committee on resolutions reported a resolution to the effect that the members of the association would only patronize such firms furnishing patent insides or outside as would allow the publisher to control entirely the advertising in the same. Quite a lengthy, but interesting discourse followed, in which Major Rockwood, of the Janesville Recorder, Booth, of the Monroe Sentinel, Bartholomew, of the Milton Telephone, and others took prominent parts. The session will close to-night, when the association will take a special train for Chicago.

The North American Review for August opens with a very spirited discussion of the subject of "Moral Instruction in the Public Schools," by the Rev. Dr. R. Heber Newton, who offers a practical scheme for conveying ethical instruction without reference to religious tenets, and the Rev. Dr. Francis L. Paxton, who maintains that the bible must be made the basis of all moral teaching. Henry D. Lloyd exposes the tricks and frauds of speculation in grain, which operate to make bread dear, and maintains that they should be repressed by law, as being flagrantly in opposition to public policy. "Woman in Politics," by ex-Surgeon General Wm. A. Hammon, is a caustic discussion of certain facts of nervous organization which in his opinion render the female sex unfit for participation in public affairs. Rev. Francis A. Walker reviews "Henry George's Social Fallacies," criticizing in particular his doctrines regarding land-tenure and rent. The evils resulting from "Crude Methods of Legislation," both national and state, are pointed out by Simon Sterne, who advocates the adoption of certain rules of legislative procedure which, in English practice, have been found to serve as an effectual barrier, both against lobbying and against the mischiefs of ill-considered law-making. Charles F. Wingate writes of "The Usurpation of the Rich," and there is a joint discussion of "Science and Prayer," by President Gresham Anderson and Thaddeus B. Wakeman. Published at 30 Lafayette Place, New York, and for sale by booksellers generally.

THE WORD GIVEN.

The Order Passed to the Telegraph Operators.

"Strike at Noon" Sent Flashing Over the Wires.

Action of the Western Union—A Committee Appointed to Talk Over the Matter—At Chicago and New York.

CHICAGO, July 19—2 p.m.—After the adjournment of the meeting in Ulrich's hall later and more important news was received from the executive committee in New York. It was to the effect that the position of the Western Union was considered unsatisfactory, and that the only resource left was to strike. Members of the brotherhood were directed to go to work as usual in the morning but to be prepared for the signal at any minute, and when it came to quit work and leave the telegraphic offices immediately. The assurance was added that the signal would be transmitted before 12 o'clock noon. At an early hour in the morning a committee from the brotherhood called at the newspaper offices and confirmed this report. The brotherhood, they stated, had received the official notification from New York to strike, and was prepared. The committee asked a dispassionate perusal of the bill of their demands. They asked a suspension of opinion on the part of the newspapers of the country, claiming that whatever denunciation occurred to the business interests of the country would be due to the telegraph company alone. The committee further requested that a special appeal be made to operators throughout the country to remain away from the cities in the crisis, and especially to await further information before accepting any indications the telegraph company might hold out to them to take the place of the striking telegraphers. Special stress is laid on this point in order that operators may not come into the city under a misapprehension of the situation. Finally, the committee requested all the telegraphers who engage in the strike to act with calmness and deliberation.

"What was that?"
That was in 1853, when the telegraphers were almost entirely unorganized. The boys struck because the telegraphic company had fired two men in San Francisco because they had joined a Telegraphers' Protective association.

"Well, the result was that when the men went back to work for the company they had to sign a paper setting forth the fact that they were not members of the obnoxious organization. There is no doubt that the company came out ahead that time, but the operators were wholly unorganized and utterly unable to take concerted action."

"Is it a fact that the Baltimore & Ohio company has offered to compromise on a 10 per cent. increase in wages?" was asked of Mr. McCulloch, local manager of the Baltimore & Ohio Telegraph company.

"Not that I know of. I have heard nothing but a rumor that the Western Union has been raised to 10 per cent. and these confirmed the report that the order to strike had been received. Unless some decided action should be taken by the company there was every indication at 2 o'clock a.m. that before noon the struggle would begin.

THE SITUATION IN CHICAGO.
At no period since the strike of telegraphers was there so much interest in the past twenty-four hours. The forty-eight hours implied given the companies for the consideration of the bill of grievances was up at 11 o'clock, Chicago time. The drift of all the news received early in the morning was that there were no indications of a settlement, and the telegraphic companies had an unusually large number of messages for transmission from persons who were fearful that a delay of an hour or two would prevent them reaching their destination. Members of the brotherhood had not gathered around the corner of LaSalle and Washington streets, and a voice of questions was poured at them by passing business men and idlers who had gathered "to see the fun," but all the members knew was that the word had not yet been received to quit the instruments. The scene in the operators' room on the top floor of the Western Union building did not differ from ordinary days, and reporters who climbed the stairs to be on hand when the click of the instruments should cease were disappointed. Supt. Tuba was there, but as he is a frequent visitor in the operators' room, his presence excited no comment. The telegraphers kept quiet at their work, occasionally exchanging a nod and a smile to give the spectators an idea that they knew what was in the wind. The hour wore on, and it became evident that the time for the great strike had not yet arrived, and a report was started that 1 o'clock would see it inaugurated.

At noon the telegraphers and spectators in the street below had increased in number, and people continued to gather, awaiting the developments which were expected at 1 o'clock. No news was received till one of the telegraphers stated that the New York office of the Western Union were in session, and no orders would be given to strike till it was learned what action they proposed to take. About this time the board of trade adjourned, and the members rushed out to hear the latest news. Their relief at finding that the wires were still working was great. Later in the afternoon it was learned that a committee had been appointed by the Western Union company to consider the demands of the operators. The members of the brotherhood received this news about as soon as the local telegraph officials, and the resolution and the names of the committee soon followed. Ex-Gov. Cornell, it was claimed, was in sympathy to some extent with the operators, and it was said that his presence on the committee showed that the Western Union officials were not unanimous in their opinion that no concessions should be made.

The headquarters of the brotherhood were crowded all the afternoon, with operators anxious to hear what was being done in New York. "What do you think of the reported arrangement to give the Western Union company another day to consider matters before precipitating the strike?" was asked of Mr. A. J. Morris, president of the Brotherhood of Telegraphers. "I had been on the executive committee and should have been in favor of giving the company just over eight hours to consider the demands, and if they were not conceded at the tick of the last second in the forty-eighth hour I would have sounded the tocsin of a strike too quick. It's possible, though, that the executive committee is pursuing the wiser course in giving the company all the time it wants."

"Will the brotherhood strike together?"

"Not the least doubt of it. Every member of the brotherhood will go out when the strike comes, and a great many operators who are not members of the brotherhood. And, right here I want to correct a statement made that one hundred men would remain at work."

"How long can you stay out on a strike?"

"A good deal longer than the telegraph company. Our men are prepared for a long struggle. Away back about the 5th of March it was known that demands for increased pay would be made, and the boys have been preparing for a rainy day. A good many of the operators want a vacation, and nothing would suit them better than to have a strike at this season of the year."

"What is the sentiment of the brotherhood?"

"The brotherhood wants to avoid a strike if possible. It recognizes the fact that business will greatly suffer if telegraph facilities are cut off by a strike, but it has been determined to secure justice from the telegraph companies, and, if necessary, a strike will be ordered, though with reluctance, on account of injury to business. We received telegrams of congratulation and confidence from St. Louis, to which I responded that we intended to fight it out on the line we had adopted if it took all summer."

Many of the younger operators would prefer to go out on a strike now whatever concessions the Western Union company may make. They have been worked up to such a pitch of enthusiasm on the matter that they insist on the fitness of things can only be satisfied by "getting back" at the company for past grievances. Said a brotherhood operator: "This company, which earns over 25 per cent. on actual capital invested, has placed us under all manner of restrictions, and then good men have been able to earn only from $40 to $70 per month without working extra. The company is sadly mistaken if it thinks it can handle its Chicago business in the event of a strike. It will have left a few country 'stills' who will be utterly unable to handle the more difficult kinds of business. Just to show you how the company is going to come out, let me tell you what they did in Philadelphia. The company sent to the country districts and imported forty operators. Seven of these were thrown out as incompetent, and thirty were admitted into the brotherhood, leaving the company just three experienced men out of this batch of forty that it can depend on, and those three will probably be induced to join the union. Matters are vastly different from what they were when the last telegraphers' strike occurred."

"When was that?"

That was in 1853, when the telegraphers were almost entirely unorganized. The boys struck because the telegraphic company had fired two men in San Francisco because they had joined a Telegraphers' Protective association.

"What was the result?"

"Well, the result was that when the men went back to work for the company they had to sign a paper setting forth the fact that they were not members of the obnoxious organization. There is no doubt that the company came out ahead that time, but the operators were wholly unorganized and utterly unable to take concerted action."

"Is it a fact that the Baltimore & Ohio company has offered to compromise on a 10 per cent. increase in wages?" was asked of Mr. McCulloch, local manager of the Baltimore & Ohio Telegraph company.

"Not that I know of. I have heard nothing but a rumor that the Western Union has been raised to 10 per cent. and these confirmed the report that the order to strike had been received. THE GREAT STRIKE.

Special to the Gazette.

CHICAGO, July 19—The word flashed over the wires to-day for all operators to stop work, and in obedience to this command between 12,000 and 15,000 telegraphers abandoned their instruments. There are only ten operators at work in this city this afternoon, and those who do not belong to the union and would work, are prevented from doing so by the interference of the members of the union. What the result will be cannot now be told, but it will doubtless very materially interfere with the transmission of news to-night.

"What was the result?"

"Well, the result was that when the men went back to work for the company they had to sign a paper setting forth the fact that they were not members of the obnoxious organization. There is no doubt that the company came out ahead that time, but the operators were wholly unorganized and utterly unable to take concerted action."

THE GREAT STRIKE.

Special to the Gazette.

LAKE GENEVA, JULY 19th.—Each arriving train brings new accessions to the editorial fraternity now in session in unusual convention here. Last evening a brilliant party was given in honor of the editors at the opera house. The White-water band furnished the music. Among the notable guests were ex-Minister to Spain, Lucius Fairchild and his charming daughter, His Excellency, Governor Bush and beautiful daughter, Hon. Horace Rublee, of the Milwaukee Sentinel; Col. E. A. Calkins, of the Milwaukee Sunday Telegraph, wife and daughter, George W. Peck, of the Sun; Lieutenant Governor Tifield, and wife; W. D. Hough, secretary of the State dairymen's association; Major Reed, of Racine, treasurer; Hon. Warren D. Parker and wife, of River Falls, and many other editors and publishers, together with military officers from the first Illinois regiment now in camp at the lake, and many prominent citizens of Geneva with their families. The festive occasion was one of social pleasure and highly enjoyed by all participants. To day there is a grand excursion to Key's beautiful park "on the lake" to witness the review of the 1st Illinois regiment, Gov. Bush, General Fairchild and other distinguished men will witness the review.

The ladies of the association issued the first number of their paper last evening, a spicy little sheet called "The Last Word." Some one suggested the motto ought to be "She will have it."

STRENGTH FOR MIND AND BODY.

There is more strength restoring power in a bottle of Parker's Ginger Tonic than in a bushel of malt or a gallon of milk. This explains why invalids find it such a wonderful invigorant for mind and body.

Our readers will find all the medicines advertised in this paper at Prentiss & Evans' drug store, opposite the post office. They keep all the principal patent medicines in the market, and undoubtedly have the largest stock in the city.

STRENGTH FOR MIND AND BODY.

Dr. Jas. Wyman, and J. W. Clandenin, an executive officer of the Great Northwestern railroad and telegraph company. Mr. Gould was the last of the committee to enter the room. Immediately upon adjournment the doors were thrown open and Secretary Brewer read the following resolution, which he said the committee had unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That a committee consisting of ex-Gov. Cornell, J. W. Clandenin, and John T. Terry, be appointed to inquire into complaints of inequalities of compensation or conditions of service of employees of this company, if any, and report to this committee."

Resolved, That a committee will meet at 11 a.m., and will subsequently report to the executive committee, which Gov. Cornell has authority to call together."

"The make-up of that sub-committee looks very favorable to the operators," said an operator. "Look at the chairman, Gov. Cornell, and remember his bitter fight not long ago against Mr. Gould and Gen. Eckert. Is it not reasonable to consider his appointment on the sub-committee a defeat of Gen. Eckert and his policy of fighting and bulldozing. With Gov. Cornell as the head of the committee, it will carefully consider the claims of the men."

THE ANNUAL POEM.

The following is the poem delivered before the Wisconsin press convention at Lake Geneva, Tuesday evening, July 17, by Mrs. Sarah Dyer Hobart, of Columbus: FORM.

Or have we read, how in days of old, Brave knight dwelling in castle trim, Gathered in host at the herald's call, In joust and tourney renown to win. Still when the plain and simple man, With his plowshare, plowshare, plowshare, Plowshare, plowshare, plowshare, BRICOLLES.

The house-breakers were off duty last night—we have heard of no depredations committed since yesterday morning.

We acknowledge the receipt of complimentary tickets to the southern portion which opens in Louisville, Kentucky, on August first.

Messrs. Hyzer & Clark, attorneys in the Bennett block, have purchased a handsome new office safe, in which to store their valuable papers.

Janesville will be well represented at Geneva and Delavan lakes this season. Many families contemplate camping for a few weeks at one or the other of these places.

We were glad to see Mr. S. J. Todd, of Beloit, on our streets to-day. He came up this morning, and spent some time in the city. He is gradually improving and now walks out considerably.

Owing to the strike of the telegraph operators, which commenced at noon to-day, we are without our usual afternoon market report from Chicago. The quotations of the noon board are given.

Up to ten o'clock this morning City Clerk Church had disposed of eighteen dog tags, an evidence showing that the canine attached thereto had been licensed by the city to "run at large" and nip whatever it had a mind.

A large number of our music loving citizens were out last evening to listen to the open air concert given on the corn exchange square by the Bower City band. All were well pleased with the entertainment. Another concert will be given at the same place next Wednesday evening by the same band.

Judge Patten, of the municipal court, was called upon this afternoon, to adjust an assault and battery case from Monterey, in which a couple of young girls were the principals. The judge settled the affair by assessing a fine of three dollars and costs upon the defendant, all amounting to $5.75.

The excursion from this city to Chicago yesterday was one of the most successful and pleasant ever given to the people of Janesville. It was profitable to the management of the enterprise, and exceedingly pleasant to all who availed themselves of the low rates and the various attractions in Chicago. Beside these, it offered those who so desired, to remain in Chicago three days, a pleasant feature which is seldom connected with an excursion of that kind.

The funeral of the late H. K. Lee took place at the Norwegian church, in the first ward at two o'clock this afternoon. Rev. W. F. Brown, of the Presbyterian church, officiating. The services were largely attended by sympathizing friends of the deceased. The song service was rendered by a quartet composed of Misses Martha Willey, Christina Petersen, Misses George K. Colling and Clarence L. Clark. The remains were interred in Oak Hill cemetery. The bearers were Messrs. O. Paulsen, S. Trulson, H. Lund, J. Johnson, C. Hanson and L. Engerstrom.

PERSONAL.—Mr. E. L. Dimock, who has been sick for a few days past, is much improved.

Mrs. I. C. Sloan, of Madison, is in the city visiting friends, and is a guest of the Myers house.

Mr. I. L. Hauser, of the Christian Statesman, Milwaukee, was in the city to-day, a guest of the Pember house.

Mr. S. Holdredge, wife and daughter, have gone to Geneva Lake, to spend a few weeks at that delightful summer resort.

Mr. Howard Sutherland, of St. Louis, is in the city on a visit of a week or ten days, and is the guest of his uncle, Mr. James Sutherland.

Mr. H. P. Ehrlinger, of Chicago, is in the city, spending a few days with relatives and friends. He is now bookkeeper with Mr. E. H. Hibbard & Spencer, 24 Lake street.

Mr. Thomas Caution, who is now a popular railroad conductor, with headquarters at Fergus Falls, Minn., is spending his vacation with his parents in this city. "Tom" has hosts of friends in Janesville, who will extend to him a hearty welcome.

The State Journal says, a letter from Hob. A. M. Carter, president of the State Pioneer association, informs us that Judge John R. Bennett, of Janesville, has consented to deliver the annual address before the Wisconsin Pioneer association at its next meeting. This is a most excellent selection. Mr. Bennett is an old settler, an able man who possesses a very retentive memory, and will deliver an admirable address, filled with facts possessing great interest.

Mr. Hyatt S. Haseltine, of Milwaukee, son of the late City Treasurer J. M. Haseltine, arrived in the city last evening, for the purpose of opening the city safe, that the special committee appointed by the common council could examine the papers and funds, etc., as required by the resolution of the council, prior to being transferred to the new treasurer. Mr. Haseltine is the only one knowing the combination of the lock. He will probably remain in the city until the special committee complete their labor.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to return our sincere and heartfelt thanks for the many kind words and acts of sympathy extended us during our sad affliction—to our neighbors and friends; to those who so generously contributed floral tributes; and to all who in any way rendered assistance, in the time of our late bereavement.

MR. AND MRS. DANIEL O'HANNA, AND FAMILY.

OUR PARKS.

THE IMPROVEMENT OF THE CORN EXCHANGE SQUARE.

The business men and property owners on West Milwaukee street are just now agitating the improvement of the public ground on the corner of West Milwaukee and Franklin streets, known as the corn exchange square. One plan proposed is to build a stone curbing around the grounds, erect a good substantial band stand in the center, and sod the grounds. This proposition seems to meet with general favor among those most deeply interested in that locality, and we see no good reason why some such plan for the improvement of the grounds should not be adopted. The grounds are now only used by a few persons, for private business, and there is no valid reason that the city should furnish such a prominent place in the city for the accommodation of any one to carry on his private affairs. The grounds belong to the city, for the use and benefit of the public, and they should be kept wholly for that purpose. Public grounds will take care of in a city like Janesville, add beauty, wealth and health. It was but a few years ago that the court house and fourth ward parks were taken hold of by a few enterprising citizens, and through their exertions for the beautifying of the city, we now boast of two handsome public parks, though small, they answer fully the purposes for which they were intended by those who inaugurated the plans of their improvement. The proper improvement of the title plot of ground on the corner of West Milwaukee and Franklin street would not only add additional beauty to that portion of the city, but would add corresponding wealth to all the property in the city, for it is by such public improvements and beautifying our city that its wealth and attractions will be increased to the benefit of all. While it is not proposed that the expense of this improvement shall be wholly performed by the city, those who are agitating the improvement think it no more than right that the city should order the grounds cleared of all obstructions, and cause the same to be curbed and sodded, while those more deeply interested propose to raise a fund to defray the expense of building a good band stand, and otherwise ornamenting the grounds. We sincerely hope, for the benefit of the whole city, that this improvement will now succeed, and that those who have it in charge will not stop the good work until success crowns their efforts, and the citizens have the pleasure of viewing a handsome and attractive little corner, rather than stumbling over a lot of rubbish piled up there for sale by private parties.

The entire cost of the improvements and maintenance of our public parks is estimated at less than three hundred dollars per year, and with the improvement of this new addition completed, that sum need not be increased to keep the same in repair.

DO IT WITH PLEASURE.

Wangler Bros., druggists, of Waterloo, Iowa, write: "We can with pleasure say that Thomas' Electric Oil gives the best satisfaction of any liniment we sell. Everybody who buys will have no other. This remedy is a certain cure for all aches, sprains and pains."

SENT TO THE POOR HOUSE.

Poor master C. F. North yesterday performed the sad duty of taking Josiah Mack, aged over eighty years, the father of the late George Mack, to the county poor house. What is worse about the case is the fact that a son, under obligation to his father, seems to have deserted him, and left him to the cold mercy of the world. The facts are these:

A few years ago Josiah Mack assigned all of his property, $1,000, to his son Sylvanus, now living at Geneva, Kansas, the son agreeing in writing or rather giving a bond that he would support his father the rest of his life. The old man went west to live with Sylvanus, but after a while he returned to this city, stating that his son's folks had misused him so that he could not live with them. He has been living at Wood's hotel for the past year, and Mr. Wood says that he has received but $26 for his board. Sylvanus has been written to concerning his father's poverty and notified that he would be sent to the poor house. It is also reported that Sylvanus is well-to-do, and apparently able to support his father. —Beloit Free Press.

THE WEATHER.

REPORTED BY TRENTICE & EVANSON, DRUGGISTS.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer registered 62 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy with westerly wind. At one o'clock p.m. the register was 51 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy with a southwest wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 61 and 74 degrees above zero.

WASHINGTON, July 19, 1 a. m.—The following are the indications for to-day:

Upper lake region—Generally fair weather, variable winds, generally shifting to southeasterly, lower barometer, and rising temperature.

Should the council so order the tax levied, and accept the library as the property of the city, it will devolve upon Mayor St. John to appoint nine directors, not more than one of whom can be members of the common council, who are to be divided into three classes, holding their offices respectively for one, two and three years. The directors so appointed are to have the complete control and management of the library.

Those interested, and that includes all our citizens, need have no fears as to the result of the action of the common council, as there is no opposition to the raising of the six hundred dollars we voted upon, at least no opposition has shown itself.

By the addition of this sum of six hundred dollars to the tax levy of this year, it will increase the tax only .000150 per cent., which will not be a straw of sufficient weight to even bend the camel's back.

It Seems to Satisfy.

A family want, and I wonder how we ever got along without Parker's Ginger-Tonic. It cured me of nervous prostration, and I have used it for all sorts of complaints in our family. Mrs. Jones, Albany.
